WeWild Workshop n°2: Strategy, tools and campaigning

In the project WeWild, ALPARC aims at developing a joint Alps-wide communication strategy and several communication tools that shall help reduce the impact of snow sports on wildlife in the Alps. Over the last months and based on the first WeWild workshop in Vorarlberg in March 2017, the ALPARC operational unit has developed a first draft of the joint communication strategy and has worked, together with communication experts, on the tools to be shared with the ALPARC network.

In order to present the work on the strategy and its tools, to gather feedback from the network, to elaborate a communication plan and to discuss how to develop further the WeWild initiative and partnership we are organizing the second WeWild workshop in the Ossola valleys (Piedmont, Italy) on the 19th and 20th of October 2017.
